

Online-round table

BRICS DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY AND RUSSIA'S PRIORITIES

Schedule: 29 May 2020, 14.00 – 16.00 (GMT+3)

The round table is held jointly by the National Committee on BRICS Research together with the BRICS Russia Expert Council and the Higher School of Economics.

Working language: Russian (simultaneous translation into English)

BRICS transregional partnership is a unique framework for international cooperation allowing its Member States to collaborate effectively in matters of global governance, sustainable development, security, energy, healthcare, digital transformation, trade and investment, innovation and sectoral project development. ‘The Partnership of the Five,’ rooted in the principle of sovereign equality, is continuously claiming its actorness in the face of current challenges, including the global pandemic and world economic crisis. New economic and geopolitical conditions, branded by some experts as a ‘competition pandemic,’ urge for abandonment of political ambitions and return to a constructive dialogue and consolidation of the Five’s financial, technical, political and intellectual resources for a rapid launch of previously agreed cooperation projects and development of breakthrough cooperative solutions to swiftly overcome the crisis and its consequences. Russia’s 2020 BRICS chairmanship is held under the motto “BRICS Strategic Partnership for Global Stability, Shared Security and Innovative Growth.” This offers a window of opportunity to define guidelines for pragmatic cooperation and lay the groundwork for mitigation of global security risks and enhancement of forecasting capabilities to develop effective strategies for preventive action.
